

19. What happens if a learner fails part of the programme while on a learnership?

Different SETAs have different policies in this regard. Most SETAs will not make a payment towards a failing learner, and will only make payment provision for learners who successfully complete a qualification. Most SETAs have suggested guidelines in place for the monitoring of learner progress through the learnership, so that corrective action can be taken before this point is reached.

[Answer to FAQ 19, The NQF and Learnerships, the NQF Gateway]